

Have you got an old electrical item that has lost its spark?

An estimated six million electrical and electronic items are thrown away every year in the UK, yet half of them could have been re-used or recycled.

We are urging residents to bring any unwanted or broken electrical items to one of two drop off events we have organised with Cambridgeshire County Council. Not only is it quick and easy to recycle them, but you could also win a £25 One4all gift card!

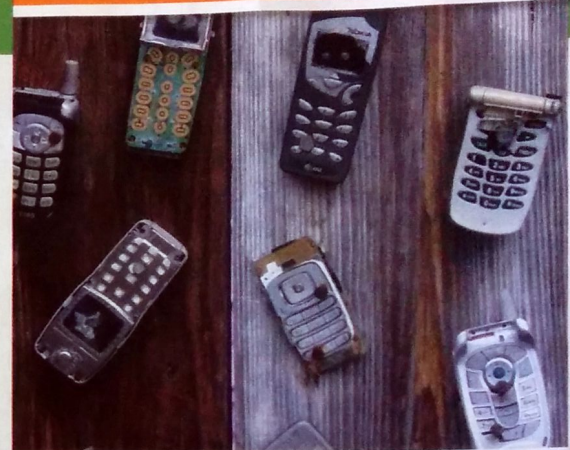

The events will take place on Saturday 25 June at Newmarket Road Park and Ride and on Sunday 17 July at Trumpington Road Park and Ride between 10am and 3pm. Anything with a plug or batteries can be brought along.

If you can't make it to either of these events, there are other options:

- Repair Cafés bring together 'fixers' and people with broken items. Find your nearest one at www.repaircafe.org
- Working appliances can be donated to charity shops or social enterprises
- Recycling Centres near Milton or Thriplow accept all electricals for recycling
- We can collect your items under our chargeable bulky waste collection service

For more information visit www.recap.co.uk

Did you know?

One tonne of discarded mobile phones yields up to 150g of gold. In comparison, one tonne of ore from a gold mine produces about 5g of gold